Spring Medicine

Your blood in Spring is almost certain to be full of impurities-the accumulation of the winter months. Bad ventilation of sleeping rooms, impure air in dwellings, factories and shops, over-eating, heavy, improper foods, tailure of the kidneys and liver properly to do extra work thus thrust upon them, are the prime causes of this condition. It is of the utmost importance that you

Purify Your Blood

Now, as when warmer weather comes and the tonic effect of cold, bracing air is gone, your weak, thin, impure blood will not furnish necessary strength. That tired feeling, loss of appetite, will open the way for serious disease, ruined health, or breaking out of humors and impurities. To make pure, rich, red blood Hood's Sarsaparilla stands unequalled. Thousands testify to its merits. Millions take it as their Spring Medicine. Get Hood's, because

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DONALD KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, MASS.,

Has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book. A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken. When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or

Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label. If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squeamish feelings at first. No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

One as good as another.

It is easy to say that one preparation is as good as another, and it is easy to waste money by buying something you know nothing about—and receiving no benefit. When the body is weak and you want to give it strength, when health is failing, what wisdom is there in experimenting with a substitute, when for a few cents more you can buy the original article? For more than twenty years Scott's Emulsion has been the standard Cod-liver Oil emulsion. It contains more pure Norwegian Cod-liver Oil than any other emulsion in the world, and will stand the test of time as being a perfect, inseparable emulsion. You can't afford to take a substitute for it.

Fighting Bicycles.

Among the latest forms of army bicycles is an American invention, recently exhibited at the cycle show in New York, which might be described as a fighting wheel. A machine gun is mounted on the head of the bicycle in such a manner that it can be directed at any desired angle. The gun is automatically fed with cartridges, and is intended to be operated by the rider, without stopping the wheel.

Electricity from the Sea.

At first glance there seems to be no connection between the breaking of sea waves and the electrical condition of the air. Recent investigations, however, show that the shattering of the waves and the scattering of the spray have the effect of imparting positive electricity to the atmosphere. Visitors to the seashore experience a stimulation from the ozone contained in the air. and the presence of this is ascribed to the electrifying action of the spray from the breaking waves.

Odd Facts About Rosin. In a recent article describing the processes of obtaining turpentine and rosin from the sap of the long-leaf pine, for which North Carolina is especially celebrated, Mr. L. J. Vance states some facts about the use of rosin which are not generally known. The finest grades of rosin, he says, are used in the manufacture of paper. Printers' ink contains rosin. Rosin also enters into the composition of scented toilet soaps, of sealing wax, of putty, of sizing, and of varnishes. It likewise furnishes a lubricating oil for machinery which competes

Recent experiments in a large English conservatory have shown that, taking the whole twenty-four hours through, plants do not surcharge the air with carbon dioxide or carbonic acid gas. When the room containing the plants is closed in the daytime the oxygen in the air actually gains in proportion upon the carbon dioxide. At night the process is reversed, but the gain of carbon dioxide is then only just sufficient to restore the air to its normal condition. These experiments suggest that the theory that plants kept in bed-rooms are injurious must be subjected to further examination before being accepted.

A Katydid Samson.

A correspondent of the Popular Science News tells how he harnessed a katydid to a kind of sled made by folding a piece of ordinary note-paper, and then loaded the sled with various articles. The insect proved able to draw, in addition to the original paper, twelve paper sheets each three by four and one-half inches, a large screw, two steel pens, a stone weighing two ounces, and three and a half lead pencils. When the weight became too heavy to be drawn otherwise the katydid got its forefeet over the edge of the table for a better hold, and on the addition of another weight it increased the adhering power of its feet by moistening them in its mouth.

The New Great Telescope.

In reporting the tests made last October, by himself and Professor Hale, of the object glass of the new forty-inch telescope for the Chicago University. Prof. J. E. Keeler speaks, in the Astrophysical Journal, of the marvelous appearance presented by the large nebula in Orion, and particularly of the vivid blue-green color which it presented. The Orion nebula, although it has been studied carefully since Herschel's day, is still a mysterious object, and the new telescope when completed may help to unravel the mystery. Referring to evidences of a slight bending of the glass under its own weight, Professor Keeler remarks that here is evidence for the first time that we are approaching the limit of size in the construction of great object glasses for telescopes.

The New Photography.

The experiments of Professor Rontgen in making photographs of the bones of the hand, and other concealed objects, by means of invisible rays issuing from a vacuum tube through which an electric current is passing, have now been repeated so often, and by so many different persons, both in this country and abroad, that already efforts are being made toward the practical utilization of the discovery. Mr. Edison, it is said, has found that the ordinary pear-shaped glass bulbs of incandescent electric lamps serve better than the costly Crookes tubes for the production of the mysterious rays. The nature of these rays is still under discussion. Professor Schuster thinks they may possibly be light waves, smaller than any hitherto known to science, and capable of traversing solids, but of course incapable of producing the effect of ordinary light on the eye. But if this be so the light is different from that which we know, for it can be neither reflected nor refracted. It has been found impossible to focus the rays even by a metallic lens. Professor Mosetig, of Vienna, has by the aid of these rays photographed a revolver bullet in a man's hand, and the malformed bones in the foot of a crippled girl.

WOMAN'S WIT.

TOLD BY A SOCIETY GIRL.

Something About Morphine, Sulphur, Molasses and Other Things.

From the Evening News, Newark, N. J. Among the popular society leaders in East Orange, N. J., Emma L. Stoll, a charming young maiden, stands in the foremost rank. She is of a lovable disposition and the light of the social set in which she moves. For two years she has been a sick girl from internal troubles peculiar to women, and having recently recovered, has given our reporter the following interesting account: "Instead of improving under the care of my physician I became worse. For five weeks I was unable to get out of bed and about 6 o'clock each morning I suffered horribly. My lips were sore and lacerated from the marks of my teeth, for in my efforts to keep from screaming I sunk my teeth deep into my lips. At such times I rolled and tossed until the bed shook like an aspen leaf and it finally got so serious that the doctor-I won't tell you his name -gave me some morphine pills to take. The very thought of them now makes me shiver. These morphine pills simply put me to sleep for a while and when I became conscious again my agony was renewed. "The pain in my stomach and back was more than I could stand. 'Your blood is poor,' said the doctor, 'take sulphur and molasses,' and I did until it was a great wonder that I was not a molasses cake. It was time wasted in taking it, because I was not benefited in the least; my suffering continued, but by a mighty effort after being in bed so long, I got up. Oh, but I was a sad sight then. From 112 pounds, I had fallen to ninety; my cheeks were pale and sunken and I limped; yes, actually hobbled from the extreme pain in my side. Then I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and the testimonial in the News inspired me with hope. I got the pills and took them. Before many days I began to improve and before I had finished one box I felt as if I could go out and walk for miles. I soon stopped limping and through the Pink Pills I soon bid good-bye to my headaches, while the pain in my stomach and back slowly but surely succumbed to the influence of these pills that seem to be able to persuade all pain to leave one's body. Now I am as I used to be; well and strong, light-hearted and merry, but never without the pills. See, I have got some of them now," and from a nearby desk she handed out one evening, May 8, 1895, at the residence of Mr. William McMahon, No. 1688 Pearl street, Brooklyn Village (Cleveland), O., to learn, if possible the cause of the noticeable improvement in his physical condition over that of a year ago, when he was a sufferer from indigestion and various organic disorders. "You see," began Mr. McMahon, "to start with, my work -that of setting type at the caseallows me little chance for bodily exercise, and is altogether too confining for anybody who is in the least subject to indigestion or dyspepsia. Perhaps not more so than many another mechanic or artisan who is constantly indoors and under severe mental strain, while the physical development is sadly in need of something to keep it in trim. Well, that has been my complaint for years, and some months ago I became very bilious, and constipation made life miserable for me at times. Then it took a seat in my LIVER, which became noticeably inactive, and I became alarmed about it. The first thing I turned my attention to was to secure a 'liver regulator,' which, however, failed to regulate; next I sought relief in 'liver pills,' which so pained and griped me that the cure was, I thought, worse than the disease. The next thing I did was to throw away the whole "shooting match," and resolve to take no more proprietary medicines. However, on hearing my tale of woe, one day, at the office, a fellowworkman offered me a small Tabule Ripans, he called it—which, he said, he would guarantee to act on the liver. I took it under protest, expecting to be doubled up in about fifteen minutes with the 'gripes.' But I was agreeably surprised in its action. It was very gentle, and I resolved to try a box. Since then I have gradually noted an entire change in the working of my system, and think that Ripans Tabules are the best remedy for liver and stomach troubles this side of anywhere. They are really a substitute for physical exercise. Have one before you go?" And Mr. McMahon produced his box of "stand-bys" from his inside pocket as the reporter took his leave.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restores shattered nerves. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Pink Pills are sold in boxes at 50 cents a box or six boxes for 2.50, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y.
